Gumming4U is not just another marketing agency—it is a collective vision built on creativity, inclusivity, and the courage to redefine how brands connect with people. Founded in 2023 by Aryaan Alam, the company was born from a simple yet powerful idea: that talent and innovation should never be confined to academic labels. At Gumming4U, what matters most is the skill, the drive, and the ability to create impact. From its early days, the company began shaping a distinctive identity by bringing together professionals from diverse backgrounds, each contributing expertise that goes beyond conventional boundaries.
